

J5

S Y S T E M S

April 2006

The San Diego-based Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center has awarded a contract valued at nearly $5.7 million to J5 Systems of San Diego for systems engineering and support of certain Command and Control networks. The one-year contract includes four options that could bring the potential, cumulative value of the contract to nearly $30.8 million and is expected to be completed in San Diego by March 2007.

